

Why Natilik for your Meeting Spaces?

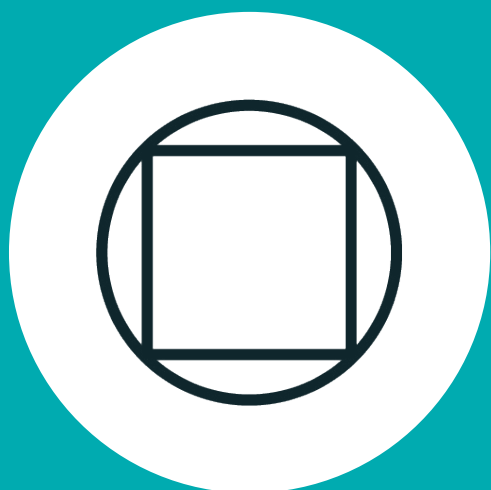

Modern meeting spaces are no longer just about technology; they're about creating environments that drive collaboration, productivity, and foster connectedness.

Let's explore five reasons why you should to choose Natilik as your AV partner to transform your meeting spaces:

1.

Smart and Sustainable Solutions

By seamlessly integrating cutting-edge technology with sustainability insights, you can create environments that foster productivity, collaboration, and well-being. From visitor and space monitoring powered by sensor data to intelligent AI-powered meetings, your workplace can adapt to modern ways of working while contributing to a greener, more sustainable world.

A Different Approach

At Natilik, we apply a user experience-first approach to AV technologies. From initial discovery and design through to deployment and ongoing management, we take a holistic view - removing complexity and reducing risk at every stage. With fewer components, simplified cabling, and the convergence of previously siloed hardware, we deliver reliable, easy-to-manage meeting room solutions that enhance user experience and are simple to monitor, scale, and secure.

3.

More Than An AV Partner

Simplicity is made possible by the shift to meeting room technology that runs over the core network, similar to the move to Video over IP (or AV over IP). At Natilik, we support clients across their network, data centres, cloud environments, and cyber security. This means we understand the wider landscape in which your meeting spaces operate and build solutions with this in mind, managing your meeting environments holistically with troubleshooting practices that reach beyond the physical kit in the room.

Fully Supported Options

Meeting spaces that are unavailable or unreliable impact productivity and create poor experiences for in-office and remote participants, reflecting directly on your brand. We understand the importance of delivering an excellent experience, with many internal stakeholders invested in ensuring meeting rooms work seamlessly. That's why we have developed our Meeting Space as a Service offering, providing assurance and confidence in the availability and performance of your meeting spaces.

Future-Proofing Your Meeting Experience

As your business evolves, your meeting spaces need to keep pace. Natilik helps you build flexible, scalable meeting environments that adapt to new technologies and changing ways of working, ensuring your investments remain relevant and continue to deliver value as your business grows. Our experts stay up to date with the latest developments in workplace and meeting technologies, ensuring your solutions are continuously aligned with industry best practices and innovations from our world-class partners.
